Dear Jason,

On behalf of Northampton Saints Foundation, I am pleased to offer our full support for Northampton College's application to be recognised as a Construction Technical Excellence College (CTEC).

Northampton College has shown impressive growth and achievement within its Construction provision. Its commitment to delivering a well-rounded curriculum including heritage skills and modern methods of construction (MMC) combined with its strategic regional and national positioning, places it in a strong position to drive forward construction skills development both now and in the future.

The College's collaborative approach with employers and partners ensures that its programmes not only deliver high-quality construction training but also develop core transferable skills. This enables students to thrive in a variety of roles and industry settings.

By engaging with other colleges, employers, and community organisations, Northampton College creates dynamic learning opportunities that equip students to succeed in the evolving construction sector. The high levels of student achievement and progression into meaningful construction careers further reflect the impact of this approach.

We are therefore proud to endorse Northampton College's application to become a CTEC. We have every confidence in its capacity to make a significant contribution to the construction workforce regionally and nationally and would welcome the opportunity to collaborate in supporting the ambitions of the programme.

Yours sincerely,

Jordan Letts
